What is a Driftmaster rod holder?

Driftmaster rod holders will hold your rod securely, within reach, and release the rod the instant you set the hook. This means more fish in the boat. We believe in the simple truth, "Catching fish is more fun than not catching fish". We make our products in Manning, South Carolina. "Made in the USA" means something to us.

How do I send a Driftmaster rod holder to Black River tools?

Just send your Driftmaster rod holders to: Black River Tools, 6509 Highway 260, Manning, SC 29102. Include your name, address, and phone number; we will call you when we get them. *We will only refurbish Driftmaster brand rod holders. Other brands sent to us will not be returned.

Can Driftmaster turn a fishing boat into a fish catching boat?

Driftmaster can transform your fishing boat into a fish "catching" boat. We help people turn their boat into a fishing machine tailored to the way they want to fish.... And we have been doing it since 1980. ALWAYS MADE IN AMERICA

How does the Driftmaster Trophy work?

The Driftmaster Trophy eliminates the struggle of getting the rod out of the holder under a hard hit or heavy pull. When you get a strike, just pull up on the rod handle to release the rod and fight the fish. "Click the picture for more information.

What is a Driftmaster locking stem?

The Driftmaster locking stem prevents the rod from turning left or right during hard hits. The neon yellow is available on all Pro Series rod holders, including 4 and 10 inch standard and locking stems models. To order, select the pro series rod holder you need and select the thread and color. or call us at 803-473-4927.

What is the difference between a flush holder and a Driftmaster Trophy?

The steep rod angle of flush style holders limits you to high speed trolling and not much else. A more horizontal rod angle allows you to fish on bottom, freeline on top or place bait anywhere in the water column. The Driftmaster Trophy eliminates the struggle of getting the rod out of the holder under a hard hit or heavy pull.
