Can you drill a hole with a Flying Drill?

But if you drag the drills along can do nice trenches with it. The flying ones nose catches on the pit it digs so not great for going straight down, but can dig a good sized hole to get to ore. It's a lot of fun making mining ships and I'm going to do new designs tonight with what I learned on these two.

How do you drill a rotor?

My method of drilling for stuff usually comes with a drilling platform connected to my base. Have a piston going forward and a piston going down. At the bottom attach a rotor to which you attach 4 drills. 2 drills to the side, 2 drills to the bottom. Make sure you place drills so they have a long reach and a short reach.
